

FIRESIDE SENTINEL

Fireside Sentinels can be viewed in hard copy at the Local History/Special Collections unit of the Alexandria Public Library. A listing of Fireside Sentinel articles follows:

March 1987 -- The Church in the Woods: Chronicles of Old Christ Church, Alexandria, VA.

April 1987 -- The Old Powder House. The Columbia Shot Manufactory. The Power Brokers: A Survey of Alexandria's Mayors. Robert Townsend Hooe.

May 1987 -- Alexandria's Bridges and Byways: The Early Days. Hunting Creek Turnpike Company: 1801. Washington Alexandria Turnpike Company: 1808.

June 1987 -- Col. James Hendricks: Alexandria's Second Mayor. Legacy of the Legal Luminaries in Alexandria.

July 1987 -- "On to Alexandria:" The Rebirth of Alexandria in the 1930's. Fun and Frivolity at Broomlawn Point.

August 1987 -- Grave Affairs on Fairfax Street.

September 1987 -- A Hero Returns (George Washington). Wm. Herbert: Banking and Mercantile Giant.

October 1987 -- Ghosts, Goblins and Graveyards.

November 1987 -- Ellsworth's Living Monument by Walton H. Owens, II. Ghosts, Goblins and Graveyards (Continued) by T. Michael Miller.

December 1987 -- Signs of the Times by Dr. James Munson. Reminiscences of an Old Bachelor: Christmas in Alexandria during the 1830's.

January 1988 -- Captain Richard Conway: Plutocrat Extraordinaire by T. Michael Miller. A Bell with a History (Hallowell's School Bell).

February 1988 -- A Prophet Honored in His Own Country (George Washington) by Col. William E. Glasgow. Wandering along the Wharves and Waterfront of Old Alexandria, Virginia by T. Michael Miller.

March 1988 -- North End Wharves and Warehouses (West Point Wharf, Taylor's Wharf, Hunter and Allison's Wharf, the Allen and Hepburn Wharves) by T. Michael Miller.

April 1988 -- Two Alexandria Historians: Ethelyn Cox and Jean Elliot by Edith Moore Sprouse. Alexandria in 1907 by Eleanor Lee Templeman. The Adam and Hepburn Wharves by T. Michael Miller.

May 1988 -- James Keith: The Aged Patriarch by T. Michael Miller. Two Impetuous Men: the Casenove-Fowle Duel. The A. W. Eastlock Shipyard.

June 1988 -- Col. Charles Simms and Dr. David Stuart: A Bicentennial Memorial by Thomas B. Worsley. George Washington's Last Military Review: When and Where Did It Transpire? by T. Michael Miller.

July 1988 -- A History of the Alexandria Library by Jeanne G. Plitt & Marjorie D. Tallichet. The Marshall House Revisited by T. Michael Miller.

August 1988 -- Alexandria's First Doctors: 1749-1799 by Ruth Lincoln Kaye. From Princess to Queen: Wandering along the Alexandria Waterfront by T. Michael Miller.

September 1988 -- Alexandria Suggests an Answer to the Riddle of Colonial Williamsburg's Logo by Philip M Erickson. Reminiscences of Henry Clay Hallowell: 1893. Wandering along the Waterfront: the Wharves of John Kirkpatrick & Benoi Wheat by T. Michael Miller. Alexandria's Soap Factories. Spring Garden, Yeates Garden & Other Amusement Areas.

October 1988 -- "If Elected..." an Overview of How Alexandrians Voted in Presidential Elections from 1789-1984 by T. Michael Miller. A Review of Presidential Visits and Associations with the Town of Alexandria, VA (Washington to Jackson).

November 1988 -- Presidential Visits to and Associations with the Town of Alexandria (Van Buren to McKinley) by T. Michael Miller.

December 1988 -- Presidential Visits to Alexandria (Theodore Roosevelt to Ronald Reagan) by T. Michael Miller.

January 1989 -- A Lee Lady's Likeness at the Lloyd House Library by Eleanor Lee Templeman. Wandering along the Waterfront: Queen to Cameron Street: Part III by T. Michael Miller.

February 1989 -- U.S. Military Hospital Sites in Civil War Alexandria, VA by William Hurd. Wandering along the Waterfront: Queen to Cameron by T. Michael Miller.

March 1989 -- Alexandria and Its Amusement Halls by Sylvester A. Brown. The First Fairfax County Historical Society by T. Michael Miller. Wandering along the Waterfront: Queen to Cameron (Concluded) by T. Michael Miller.

April 1989 -- Genevieve Herrick: Modern Alexandria Journalist by Marilyn W. Burke. Unusual Place Names in Alexandria by Charles Sampson. The Ordinance of Secession: 1861. Lost Alexandria City Council Minutes Found.

May 1989 -- Spring Gardens: An 18th & 19th Century Pleasure Glade by T. Michael Miller. A Visit to General Washington's Garden.

June 1989 -- Artists in the Life of Alexandria, Virginia by Mary Jane Haas. The Ranking Officer in Alexandria's Immortal 100 by Col. William Glasgow.

July 1989 -- Early 19th Century Artists Who Worked in Alexandria, VA by Mary Jane Haas. Excerpts from Alexandria's Lost City Council Minutes (continued).

August 1989 -- Consumed by Fire by T. Michael Miller.

September 1989 -- Clermont: the Rest of the Story by Edith M. Sprouse. Consumed by Fire (Continued) by T. Michael Miller.

October 1989 -- Clermont: the Rest of the Story (Continued) by Edith M. Sprouse. Consumed by Fire (Continued) by T. Michael Miller.

November 1989 -- Elegy to an Old Chapel in Greenleaf Point, 1815 by Eleanor Lee Templeman. More on Spring Gardens by Ruth Lincoln Kaye. Commentary on Spring Gardens by Sara Revis. The Spring Gardens Question by Edith Moore Sprouse. Spring Gardens Revisited by T. Michael Miller. Spring Gardens.

December 1989 -- The Case of 418 Franklin Street: A Case Study of Discovery and Dialogue by Pamela J. Cressey. Upper King Street 100 Years Ago by R. E. Lee Tyler. An Egyptian Mummy Exhibited in Alexandria, Virginia, 1829. Death Stalks the Carlyle House by T. Michael Miller. Carnival of the Animals, Royal & Duke Streets. Articles for Sale at Christmas Time in Nineteenth Century Alexandria, Virginia.

January 1990 -- Scenes of Childhood by Mary Gregory Powell. Historical Debating Society Formed in 1836.

February 1990 -- African American Research at Lloyd House. A Success Story by Yvonne Carignan. Alexandria Records for African American Family Research. Topics in Alexandria African American History. Scenes of Childhood (Continued) by Mary Gregory Powell.

March 1990 -- Andrew Jackson Lodge Donates Historic Records to Lloyd House. A Profile of Alexandria, Virginia during the 1890's by T. Michael Miller. Scenes of Childhood (Concluded) by Mary Gregory Powell.

April 1990 -- The History and Architecture of the Building at 218 North Columbus Street, Alexandria, Virginia by Roland M. Frye, Jr. Consumed by Fire: A Series of Destructive Conflagrations in Alexandria by T. Michael Miller.

May 1990 -- A Northern View of Alexandria during the Civil War by T. Michael Miller. The History and Architecture of the Building at 218 North Columbus Street, Alexandria, Virginia (Concluded) by Ronald M. Frye, Jr.

June 1990 -- A Few Notes on the 20th Century Literary Scene in Alexandria by Virginia Kahl. Timely Deliveries from "The Washington Republican."

July 1990 -- By the Banks of the Brandywine: The Life & Times of the Cazenove Family by T. Michael Miller.

August 1990 -- By the Banks of the Brandywine (Concluded) by T. Michael Miller.

September 1990 -- The Pioneer Mill. Wandering Along the Waterfront: Cameron St. to King St. by T. Michael Miller.

October 1990 -- Joseph Rodgers: Master Builder by T. Michael Miller. Excerpts from the Town of Alexandria Lost City Council Minutes (Continued).

November 1990 -- Glimpses of Early Alexandria Foodways by Ellen Donald. Thanksgiving in Alexandria, Virginia: When and How It Was Celebrated by T. Michael Miller. Lloyd House Acquires Fascinating Civil War Diary.

December 1990 -- Lenny: An Appreciation by Richard Bales. The Smoot Tannery by William Francis Smith. Hoops and Barrel Staves: The Cooperage Trade in Alexandria, Virginia by T. Michael Miller. Notes from Alexandria's Lost City Council Minutes (Continued). The Wearing of the Green in Alexandria, Virginia, 1836. An Upper King Street Cesspool. Some Notable Firsts in the History of Alexandria by T. Michael Miller. Alexandria Rope Walks by T. Michael Miller. Human Fly Thrills Crowds by "Stunts" at City Hall. The Demise of Louis A. Casenove of 614 Oronoco Street.

January 1991 -- Reflections on Alexandria during World War II by Jeanne G. Plitt. Gold Star Honor Roll of Alexandria. Dateline: Alexandria--World War II.

February 1991 -- Count De Lemonade by Edith Moore Sprouse. A Letter from Harriet (Brent) Jacobs as Published in the National Anti-Slavery Standard April 16, 1864. The Opening of the Colored Reading Room.

March 1991 -- Women's History at Lloyd House by Yvonne Carignan.

April 1991 -- Hooff's Run Stone Bridge: A Lasting Artifact of Alexandria's Railroad Era by Pamela J. Cressey. The Works of the O. A. & M. Railroad in Alexandria, Virginia by T. Michael Miller.

May 1991 -- Perils of a Respectable Family by Wesley E. Pippenger. A Survey of Alexandria's Antiquated City Records by T. Michael Miller.

June 1991 -- "My Dear Louisa...": Letters from Mrs. Mary Custis Lee to the Snowden Family of Alexandria, Virginia by T. Michael Miller. Keeping Cool: Early Alexandria Ice Houses by T. Michael Miller.

July 1991 -- "Enthusiastic Applause": Musical Expression in 18th and 19th Century Alexandria by T. Michael Miller.

August 1991 -- Wandering Along the Waterfront: King to Prince Street by T. Michael Miller.

September 1991 -- The Robert Portner Brewing Company of Alexandria, Virginia by Patrick Timothy Bragg. A Description of Robert Portner's Brewery in 1894. The Exhumation of President James Madison by T. Michael Miller.

October 1991 -- Impressions of the Stabler Family of Alexandria, VA by Anne S. Paul.

November 1991 -- Alexandria's Crystal Palace by T. Michael Miller. Thanksgiving Axed by City Council by T. Michael Miller.

December 1991 -- Christmas in Civil War Alexandria by T. Michael Miller. Travel by Ferry by T. Michael Miller. Christmas Time in Old Virginia by John Estes Cooke. Frederick Douglas at the Podium. The Threatened Destruction of 112 South Royal Street by T. Michael Miller. One Hundred Years Ago: July 9, 1755. The Volunteer Companies of Alexandria: 1755 to 1860.

January/February 1992 -- A Lost Block Rediscovered (100 Block of North Fairfax Street) by William Francis Smith. Excerpts from Alexandria's Lost City Council Minutes, 1797-1798.

March 1992 -- Weathering the Storm: A Short History of Notable Weather Disturbances in Alexandria and Its Environs by T. Michael Miller.

April 1992 -- Home of Peace Cemetery by Ruth Sinberg Baker. Miss Duffey: The First Woman to Serve on a Jury in the Old Dominion State.

May 1992 -- The Development of Suburban Alexandria: Del Ray and St. Elmo by Susan Escherich. The Eighth Illinois Cavalry: Its Occupation of Alexandria by T. Michael Miller.

June 1992 -- Ye Old Gray Mare: The Role and Care of Horses in Alexandria, Virginia by T. Michael Miller.

July 1992 -- Portrait of a Neighborhood: Sue Perry's Alexandria by T. Michael Miller.

August 1992 -- The Town of Potomac by Susan Escherich.

September 1992 -- Guide to Alexandria World War II History Resources at Lloyd House by Yvonne Carignan. The Mail Must Go Through: A Short History of Postal Service in Alexandria, Virginia by T. Michael Miller.

October 1992 -- The Potomac Yards by T. Michael Miller.

November 1992 -- The History of Potomac Yards: The Alexandria Canal by T. Michael Miller. The Fruit Growers Express

December 1992 -- Monsieur Generes, Dancing Master by Edith Moore Sprouse. A Lloyd House Christmas, 1867 by T. Michael Miller. Alexandria's Old Bachelor's Club.

January/February 1993 -- The Homefront: Wartime Alexandria 1941-1945, Part I by T. Michael Miller.

March/April 1993 -- The Homefront: Wartime Alexandria 1941-1945, Part II by T. Michael Miller.

May/June 1993 -- Fogelson's Additions: A Brief History of an Alexandria Community by Charlie Clark.

July/August 1993 -- Old Church Alley and the 200 Block of North Washington Street by William Francis Smith.

September/October 1993 -- Wandering Along the Waterfront: The Prince to Duke Street Corridor by T. Michael Miller.

November/December 1993 -- The Prince to Duke Street Waterfront, Part II by T. Michael Miller.

January/February 1994 -- Windmill Hill by T. Michael Miller. The Prince to Duke Street Waterfront, Part II (Continued) by T. Michael Miller.

March/April 1994 -- Cottage Farm, 1819-1952, Lincolnia, Fairfax County, Virginia by Ruth Lincoln Kaye.

May/June 1994 -- Cottage Farm, Part II: Lincolnia by Ruth Lincoln Kaye.

July/August 1994 -- The Return of Cicero and Seneca to the Lyceum by Barbara Gawthrop Hollowell. A Letter from Henry Clay to the Whig Committee of Alexandria by T. Michael Miller.

September/October 1994 -- Clarens: A Sylvan Retreat, 318 N. Quaker Street by T. Michael Miller.

November/December 1994 -- Clarens: A Sylvan Retreat, Part II by T. Michael Miller. Alexandria's First Museum. Auto Traffic Signal Is Now in Operation (Alexandria's First Traffic Signal).

January/February 1995 -- Cake, Bread and Butter: A Look at Alexandria's Bakeries and Grocery Stores by Jeanne Given Plitt.

March/April 1995 -- Republican Voices in a Federalist Town: The 1796 & 1800 Presidential Election Campaigns by Christopher E. Blanchard.

May/June 1995 -- The Arlington County Loose Papers: A Preliminary View of an Underutilized Resource by Elaine Hawes.

July/August 1995 -- Students of the Alexandria Academy and Its Successors, 1786-1912 by Ruth Lincoln Kaye.

September/October 1995 -- Students of the Alexandria Academy, Part II: The Lancasterian Period, 1817-1885 by Ruth Lincoln Kaye. Lee School for Girls.

November/December 1995 -- Students of the Alexandria Academy. Part III: George Washington High School by Ruth Lincoln Kaye.